Introduction

The Southern Observatory for Human Rights (SOHR) issues its annual report for 2014 to show the local and international public over the credibility of the Yemeni regime in dealings with the human rights of the southern citizens and their fundamental freedoms and to reveals the extent of arrogance of the Yemeni armed forces in the commission of serious violations, disguised all international laws and human values.

With the belief that the repression and wrong policies by the Yemeni security forces against the people of the South, is a systematic and continuing policy, but what distinguishes it this year from its predecessors is the intensification of ferocity and increasing in quality and quantity, which makes such violations a real threat to the security and stability of the citizens and endangering their life and livelihood. Besides, this is a reflection of the level of nervousness that hits the political and military leaders of the successes of the Southern Movement, internally and externally, where we find an increase in the military presence in the southern provinces, a progressing transform of the cities and villages into military barracks and setting up checkpoints at intersections and entrances, roads to conduct a raid of several residential neighborhoods. In addition, we documented the use of excessive force and firing live bullets during the dispersal of peaceful demonstrations, embarking on the implementation of the killing of a number of national leaders, launched campaigns of the arbitrary detention of Southern Movement activists and supporter, as well as the right of many of the owners thought of intellectuals, journalists, and other repressive methods that exceeded to crimes against humanity, specifically, bombing crimes by heavy and medium weapons on the homes of citizens in a number of towns and villages in the South, and the continued air strikes of aircraft "drones", where most of their victims were civilians.

The Southern Observatory was able to register and document during 2014, 200 extrajudicial, 426 attempted murders causing different injuries, and 136 arbitrary arrests. The Southern Observatory notes that those violations which will always serve as a witness on the crimes perpetrated by the Yemen authority forces against the citizens of the South, and they will always be considered as a shameful stain on the forehead of those forces until criminals are justly punished.

In the lack of authority to be able to deter the perpetrators of those crimes, the Southern Observatory calls the international community to shoulder its legal and moral responsibility and to demonstrate its ability to stop such crimes and protect the people from killing and constant abuse, calling for the formation of a neutral and independent international committee to consider and investigate transparently according to international standards on these crimes and punish the perpetrators and justice for victims. This comes on the basis of reality, where the government did not comply with its international obligations to protect human rights, and lack of commitment to the application of the Human Rights Council Resolution Res / hrc / a / 18/19 for the year 2011 concerning to the creation of a national commission to look into such violations. Add to that, the Yemeni government did not take any action to deter the perpetrators of such violations. This enabled them to impunity, and even encouraged them to commit more of such crimes. The Southern Observatory has initiated the invitation of the UN Human Rights Council to activate that decision and applied to the cases of violations committed against the sons of the South, and to the formation of an international commission to look at the continuing abuses against southern citizens and to the continuous targeting of their lives, their human rights and their political freedom. Here, the Southern Observatory indicates that the Yemeni regime has not only ignored international resolutions, but it has also worked to deny the southern citizens of their right to complaint to international bodies, by refusing to affiliate to the additional Protocols and international provisions which grant the right to the victims of the individuals and their families to submit complaints to international bodies to defend their rights, and the most important of the First Protocol to the Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, and the International Convention on the International Covenant for the protection of enforced disappearances, in addition to the Rome Statute of the international Criminal Court. This is what the South Observatory for Human Rights effects with many delegations of the International Council of Human Rights at its 27th meeting which held last September, knowing that it had the observatory to address directly with the former minister of human rights, as well as with the current minister before his appointment. The Southern Observatory was calling the current Minister for Human Rights in Yemen to affiliate to the First Protocol and the relevant provisions of international right of the individual victim to submit complaints to the international protection bodies.

The Southern Observatory did during this year connections related to human rights violations in South Yemen to the UN High Commissioner for Human Rights and a numerous other international human right organizations, among them, 12 appeals related to those violations, the participations in four international seminars, three of them held at the United Nations building in Geneva and one in Egyptian press building in Cairo as well as attending the sessions of the Human Rights Council hold in the months of June and September 2014. The secretary general participated further in two international meetings in Cairo and Tunis, and two interties with Aden Live satellite and Almiadin satellite. Also the Southern Observatory issued two periodic reports during I and II seasons of this year.

The Southern Observatory notifiesthe regional and international community that the Yemeni government forces are committing violations daily against the Southerners, and turning the South to yard of tension and instability, so that the southern citizens live in fear and horror, and losing safety and live in peace. Furthermore, those forces are targeting activities of the southern national events, and turning them to stations of violence, where many of the victims fall between dead and wounded. This happened on the anniversary of reconciliation and tolerance on January 13, the Day of Dignity on February 21, and Day of Earth on April 27, and the day of Declaration of disengagement May 21, the anniversary of independence on November 30, in addition to bombard people's homes using variety of weapons, as shown below.

Extrajudicial killing:

The murder is the loss of the human spirit, which is considered by law as an unforgivable crime, but the Yemeni regime forces commit it without blithely religious or moral scruples, and implementing the orders of the political leaders who see in these crimes a protection for their political interests, feeling confident that their crimes will not be exposed to any matter. As an example what is committed by the Central Security Forces on December 15, the assassination of the leader in the Southern Movement Khaled, Khaled Al-Junidi, without lifting a finger and coverage on the perpetrators. However, the protesters who came out in an angry demonstration to condemn the killing of Al-Junidi were not spared from attacks by regime forces, who killed a young man, called Mohammed Mohsen Zakina in addition to thirteen wounded. On December 23, Yemeni government forces proceeded to raid consolation camp organized by the people of the city of Attaq in Shabwa, on the spirit of the Southern activist Matlub Bin Shutirat, who was shot by the Yemeni troops on the first day of the raid, firing indiscriminately on it and killing the activist, Ali Nasser Al-Slimani, and the wounding the citizens: Nasser Mohammed Abdullah and Ali Saleh Dahmash, and then tampered with the contents of the camp.

If the murder of individual leaders of the Southern Movement represents a field execution extrajudicial crime, there is a mass killing and other crimes carried out in the framework of state terrorism

Bloody day in the effectiveness of Independence:

Southerners celebrated on November 30, anniversary of independence in the cities of Aden and Almukalla. The Yemeni forces used live bullets and tear gas against the southern citizens killing in Aden one of the participants in addition to 58 wounded and suffocation others with tear gas, and 5 wounded in the city of Amukalla. Authority forces have tried to prevent participants from other provinces to participate and fired on a number of them. This is what happened to the convoy of the participants from Wadi Hadhramaut, Douan and East Ridh, wounding two of them. In the city of Aden, the Authority forces proceeded to suppress a peaceful march in Khormaksar and Almualla, using excessive force on participants shooting dead a young man in Suzuki Tour in Sheikh Othman. It should be noted that the Yemeni forces dared to try to prevent the leader Hassan Baoom, head of the Supreme Council of Southern Movement from entering the city of Aden and surrounded his convoy as well as residency of his son, Fadi Baoom, head of the Youth and Student Movement in Aden, in an attempt to arrest him and his companions It was also reported that the Yemeni security forces arrested many of Southern Movement activists during this event.

Effectiveness of the Day of Dignity and outgassing on the prayers:

On the day of dignity, February 21, in the city of Aden, three southerner citizens fell dead and forty were wounded by the firing of Yemeni forces, where they prevented the establishment of the demonstration for the expression of rejection of the southern citizens, for the output of "the Yemeni Dialogue Conference". In Freedom Square in Khormaksar.. The Yemeni forces attempted to prevent people coming from other southern provinces to participate in this effectiveness from entering the province of Aden, and fired on them in Alanad and Alrabat area in Lahj province and in Dar Saad in Aden province and Alalam in Abyan province. Also those forces shot at "Caltex tour", and "Albajah tour" near Freedom Square in Khormaksar, and in "Bader tour" near Bader military camp and "Regal tour" near Aden hotel, and wounded ten citizens through this time. In testimony to one of the participants said that the participants in this event were forced to crawl walking a distance of twenty kilometers despite the using tear gas against them. In the arrogance of Yemeni forces prevented the establishment of this effectiveness in Khormaksar which made the demonstrators in fear after they hunt them and fired on them, and fell dead the activists Abdul Alim Ahmed Hussain and Mohammed Zaid while more than thirty-five were wounded. They further launched fire on the march of the thousands coming from Almualla toward Freedom Square in Khormaksar, where one of the participants was killed and five others were wounded. And in deprecated position, those forces proceeded to launch a chemical gas into crowds of prayers without respect for the performance of the worship and used of excessive force batons and hot water hoses and repression of severe beatings and torture tools to disperse the others. They launched a mass arrests of dozens of young people, and injured hundreds as a result of suffocation of chemical gases. At this time, Doctors without Borders organization appealed the international community to stop these violations against the people of the South.

The effectiveness of reconciliation and tolerance:

At a time when Southerners celebrated anniversary of " reconciliation and tolerance " on January 13 in the city of Aldalh and which was attended by crowds of people from various provinces of the South for funeral massacre of Snah, where twenty-citizens were killed, including six children. The Yemeni forces deployed publishes its soldiers provocative manner taken combat readiness mode with hear the explosions and the sounds of heavy bullets, and its source is areas behind the southern border. In addition, it has been targeting a group of southern activists of the Southern Movement across the ambush killing Abdel Nasser Aldaari and injuring one of his companions. In the city of Alshahr, Yemeni soldiers in Alali camp launched military campaign accompanied by the flight of helicopters and bombed houses of various types of weapons killing two children: Abbas Mohammed Bawazir (5 years) and Abdul Rahman Saleh Alyamini (7 years) and destructing and damaging dozens of homes.The launch of fire on the gathering of a number of activists of the Popular Uprising killed two activists of Southern Movement: Hussein Issa Albahsani and Ahmed Jamaan Ppaduis and wounded two more.

Military death checkpoints:

It was noted that there is a new murder, committed by Yemeni soldiers in military checkpoints, which became known as the "death points." Those checkpoints that are spread in the vicinity of the towns and villages and on the intersections of the roads are scary and disturbing the southern citizens. The Southern Observatory sees that there is no justification for the existence of these checkpoints, taking into account that they have no legitimacy, because the reality has proven that the negative aspects of their existence overwhelm the positives. The bullets of these checkpoints killed the leader of the Youth and Student Movement Hussain Albahsani in "Dfikh" in Alshahr - Hadramout on January 12. Also, the Soldiers in the checkpoint of "Hubil Shams" targeted the Colonel Sahim Saif with three bullets in his body when he was returning from Aden together with his wife and children. On February 10, the citizen Abed Rabbo Aldjamlani Alauzali was shot dead by a checkpoint stationed in the middle of the obstacle mount of "Therh" while he was going with one of his colleagues to the city of Aden. In another operation, Yemeni regime forces carried out on March 14 assassination of an activist in the Southern Movement Mubarak Al-Shabwani in front of his house and his family and friends in Block 37 of the city of Almansoura amid heavy gunfire and random on homes and unsuspecting parents. This killing by Yemeni solders was faced condemnation and denunciation by Southern National Movement components, because the bullets of these checkpoints did not distinguish in killing between adults and children when killing the 2 children, Abdullah Abed "7 years" and Bashar Ali Balbaket "8 years".

Shooting at peaceful demonstrations:

What angers the Yemeni forces is that the southern citizens are exercising their freedom through peaceful expression of their political beliefs and attitudes about the future of their homeland and what is practicing by the Yemeni authorities of policies towards them. Therefore, those authorities sent troops to repress any protest by southern political components or union institutions or civil society organizations. This repression is not free from excessive force, including firing live bullets to the participants. Some vivid examples of the power forces, where they opened fired on Monday, January 27, on a peaceful march called by the Southern Movement in Attaq in Shabwa provinceinjuring three citizens. On January 24, authority soldiers launched fired on a peaceful march heading from the city of Almualla to Khormaksar in Aden, and according to the report of "Adenalghad", the protesters had a message for the Arab summit which was holding in Kuwait, containing their rejection of any projects that could give the regime in Sanaa a legitimacy for the occupation of South Yemen. As a result of these suppression of the Yemeni forces, dozens of the participants were wounded with batons or suffocated with tear gas.

Shooting at citizen houses:

If there is any classification of the types of terrorism in South Yemen, it is "the state terrorism", which is seen through the bombing of civilian homes of citizens. This terrorism is a crime against humanity. The bombing of towns and villages, including quarters of men, women and children is an action that cannot be justified, it is supposed to be a subject to trial for being granted the harshest penalties. In the South, usually the Yemeni authority army camps are attacking several towns and villages, using heavy weapons launchers, tanks, and artillery shells, etc., which results in civilian casualties and destruction of homes and facilities. As examples of the 33rd Brigade forces which is stationed in the city of Aldalh, where is bombing the houses of the city and its neighboring villages, including areas of Snah and Alahud, using various types of heavy and medium weapons killing ten people, including four children and two women in addition to the thirty-six wounded, as well as damage of dozens of homes and the burning and destruction of some parts of the general hospital of the city, the water tank, the medical clinic of Alabger, other civilian facilities and private properties from cars and agricultural equipment. One of those tragedies is the artillery shell hit on January 17 in one of the houses of the Slav area led to the destruction of the house completely killing pregnant mother and her children and injuring their father. In the city of Alshahr in Hadramout, the Yemeni forces opened fire on January 23 with heavy weapons and tanks at houses in a number of districts of the city, leading to serious damage and great loss of property. On February 5, Yemeni forces stormed the Martyrs Square in Almansoura neighborhood and burned the platform and tore pictures of the martyrs and the flags of the South, and fired bullets at the neighboring houses, killing oneperson. On April 21, Yemeni forces raided on neighborhoods of "Dees Almukalla and Albadoo and Basweed" in Hadramout using various types of weapons, which led to the displacement of people from those neighborhoods. And in Lauder Directorate, forces of 115 brigade stationed on the hills of the city of Lauder in Abyan province fired on August 25 artillery shells into the city and toward the village of "Alsharaa and the mountains of Alabed", causing panic and terror among the civilian population.

Recommendations:

In front of the violations of human rights of the southern citizen which exposure the life of hundreds of them at risk, Southern Observatory is screaming loudly for the condemnation and denunciation of those repressive policy of the Yemeni government forces against the sons of the South, raising its point of view of the need to find a capable international mechanism of protecting the southern citizens from those humanitarian crimes.

Accordingly, the Southern Observatory for Human Rights (SOHR) applies the following recommendations:

1. Immediate cessation of killings and oppression and bullying against the citizens of the South.
